

Court Fight To Halt Catch-And-Release Rule Underway

With the traditional trout season opening Saturday, a group of fishermen will seek an injunction Wednesday in circuit court to halt a new no-kill rule on the AuSable mainstream.

The Committee To Oppose Catch and Release, its executive committee of Peter Stephan, Lacey Stephan, Dwight Hassan, Harrison Goodhue, and Clarence LaMotte, along with Senator Connie Binsfeld, Representative Ralph Ostling, the City of Grayling, and the AuSable River Systems Property Owners Association have filed suit asking for a temporary restraining order against the new rule. Defendants in the suit are the Natural Resources Commission, Ronald Skoog, DNR Director, John Scott, Chief of the DNR Fisheries Division, and the Department of Natural Resources.

In the brief filed by Ron Wilson, attorney for The Committee To Oppose Catch and Release, the plaintiffs claim the Natural Resources Commission's decision to implement no-kill on the mainstream was arbitrary and capricious.

The suit claims the NRC misused their authority because of the following reasons:

★ Catch and release takes away the essential object and incentive for most fishermen - the right to keep a fish.

★ Catch and release for the mainstream AuSable was opposed by the fish biologists and Fisheries Division of the DNR.

★ The catch and release rule was opposed by more than 80 percent of riverfront property owners along the Burton's to Wakeley Bridge stretch.

★ Majority responding to DNR survey opposed catch and release on mainstream.

★ The DNR already has an experimental catch and release program on the South Branch but there are no results from this study that would encourage widening the experiment to include the mainstream.

★ The new catch and release rule could interfere and perhaps nullify the South Branch study.

★ The NRC responded to pressure from a small but vocal group of outdoor writers and trout fly fishermen who support catch and release.

★ The new rule was adopted without public hearing and without a chance for affected groups to give their views.

The court hearing was scheduled to start Wednesday, April 23, at 9 a.m. in 46th Circuit Court at the Crawford County Courthouse with Judge Alton T. Davis presiding.

Members of the Committee To Oppose Catch and Release are hoping for a decision on the restraining order this week. They expect a court date for a full hearing to be set later.

4 Grayling Girls Hurt In Head-On Car Crash

Four 17-year-old Grayling girls were injured Monday about 6:50 p.m. when two vehicles struck head-on on the I-75 Business Loop near the A & P store. Lori Pfaff, Jenny McEvers, Piper Ostrowski, and Annette Williams were taken to Mercy Hospital by Crawford County Ambulance Corps for treatment. One driver was cited for crossing the center lane. Seat belts were not used by any of the four and Grayling police said injuries probably would have been less severe or avoided if seat belts had been used.

Clocks Spring Ahead 1 Hour

Crawford County residents need to set their clocks ahead one hour this weekend to keep in step with Daylight Savings Time. The clocks switch forward one hour at 2 a.m. Sunday.

Georgia-Pacific Receives Air Permit, Begins Work on Beaver Creek Plant

The Air Pollution Control Commission of the Michigan Department of Natural Resources approved on April 15 Georgia-Pacific Corp.'s permit application to install all proposed equipment at the company's Beaver Creek Resin Plant. This permit also sets the standards for air pollution control equipment, minimal levels of emissions, and good operating procedures.

Georgia-Pacific also announced Crittenden Construction Company, Inc. will be contractor for the first phase of construction of the Beaver Creek Resin Plant. The Alpena, Michigan-based firm began site preparation on Monday, April 21, and will also be responsible for building and equipment erection, underground utility installation, and road construction.

Trivial Pursuit Olympic Contestants Go For The Gold April 24

If you thought the olympics were big in Rome, then you haven't been to the Trivial Pursuit Olympics in Grayling! This year's olympics will be bigger and better than ever. Famous local residents will be participants for the gold, silver, and bronze trophies by answering questions from "Crawford County The First 100 Years" and the Genius II Edition of the standard game.

Bring your noisemakers to root for your favorite personality this Thursday, April 24, at the Joseph Stripe Auditorium in the Grayling High School at 7 p.m. Tickets are $3 and are available at Chief Shoppenagons, The Chamber of Commerce, Cornell Realty, Mercy Hospital, Mac's Drugs, or at the door.

Additional entries and changes from last week's list of contestants include "The Grey Fox" from Camp Grayling, Lois Lane from the Crawford County Avalanche, Troy "King Bee" Haag from the Crawford County Arts Council, and Sherry "Old Lady Milltown" Haag from the Business and Professional Women's group.

Randy Thompson will again swing the wheel of misfortune for the contestants.

Range Firing Conducted

Firing will be in the following areas on the dates and times as indicated.

The Small Arms Ranges located north of Howe Road, west of Lake Margrethe, east of the gas pipeline and south of Portage Creek. Firing will begin at 8:00 AM 23 April 86 and cease at 5:00 PM 30 April 86.

The Range 30 Complex located north of North Down River Road, east of Jones Lake Rd, south of County Rd 612, and west of Damon Truck Trail. Firing will begin at 8:00 AM 23 April 86 and cease at 5:00 PM 30 April 86.

The Range 40 Complex located north of County Road 612, east of Guthrie Lake, south of Old State Rd 618 and west of County Rd F97 (Twin Bridge Rd). Firing will begin at 8:00 AM (Daily) 23 April 86 and cease at 5:00 PM (Daily) 30 April 86.

The ranges will be closed to the public during these periods and all persons are warned to keep out of the areas identified.

Brooks Honored By Commission

Duane Brooks, of the DNR Forest Management Division in Grayling, was among ten DNR employees honored by the Natural Resources Commission for outstanding job performances.

Brooks was given an award for his work in achieving an effective agreement with the Michigan National Guard for fire suppression during periods when the Guards train on Camp Grayling ranges.

The NRC said Brooks exhibited considerable skills in gaining support from police agencies, schools, city and township governments, fire agencies, and the general public in addition to training guard personnel in wildfire suppression techniques.

The employee recognition awards is an annual event and commends those who give more than just the expected performance of their duties.

Employees are nominated by colleagues and selections are made by a screening committee and an awards commission.

Crawford Is Hot Spot In State For Fires

By Jon Thompson

Governor Blanchard designated this week, April 20-26, as Wildfire Prevention Week to remind state residents spring is the time most grass and forest fires occur.

Crawford County residents shouldn't need the reminder because this area is the hottest spot in the state for forest fires.

Last year, the Grayling DNR firefighting crew fought 55 fires that burned a total of 1,857 acres. Statewide, only a little more than 5,000 acres burned last year. That means our area accounted for about 37 percent of the total number of acres burned in the state last year.

Crawford County is a hot spot because of the large number of jack pine stands. Jack pine provides plenty of fuel that ignites easily and burns quickly.

Crawford County also has a high number of forest fires because of Camp Grayling activity. Last year, 33 of the 55 fires were on Camp Grayling ranges. Although the military pre-burns range land and has its own firefighting department, the DNR often is called in to assist.

Despite the large number of fires fought by the DNR last year, Crawford County has not had a large fire of more than 1000 acres since 1975 in the Bald Hill area.

DNR Firefighter Duane Brooks says county residents and visitors to the area must be extra careful to prevent a big fire from starting. Debris burning in the county is the main cause of fires outside of the military ranges. Practically all forest fires in the county are started by people. Rarely will lightning start a fire here.

If the ground isn't covered with snow, then a burning permit is required to burn debris. Burning permits can be obtained at no cost by calling the DNR Grayling field office at 348-6371.

Brooks said most county residents obtain burning permits and this helps prevent fires. The DNR will not issue burning permits on high risk days. Or they can limit the debris burning to early morning or evening when the wind dies down. Burning permits are also helpful because the DNR has the location of the debris fire in case it is spotted by the DNR patrol plane or someone calls in to report a fire.

Burning permits are not required with covered masonry or metal burn barrels with air holes no larger than 3/4 of an inch.

For the first time at the Grayling field office, four DNR firefighters will be stationed there. Brooks and Frank Barber have been here several years and two newcomers have been added. Dave Reisinger, from the Roscommon DNR office, replaces Jim Gray, who was promoted, and Dan Schrock, from Camp Grayling, fills in a new position. A forest service report recommended Grayling receive two new positions because of the number of fires in the area, but budget restraints limited the increase to one new position. Both Reisinger and Schrock are experienced firefighters.

Also new this year will be a Fire Investigation Team. The team includes a DNR firefighter from the Grayling field office, a Conservation Officer from the Grayling DNR office, a state police fire marshall, a federal forest service employee, and a DNR firefighter from the Lincoln field office. The team will investigate the cause of fires and this information can be used to collect costs of suppressing fires or used for legal action. Already this year the team found the match that started a half acre fire and helped figure out who started the fire.

Brooks said a fire investigative team is really needed.

"If a bank robber steals $10,000, every policeman in the country is alerted," said Brooks. "But if someone burns down a building and tries to collect $10,000, probably only one person would be sent out to investigate. What's the difference if you rob someone of $10,000 or try to cheat the insurance company out of $10,000 through arson?"

Setting a forest fire deliberately is a felony and letting a fire escape through carelessness is a misdemeanor. If your debris fire escapes, you could be fined up to $100 or sentenced up to 90 days in jail. In addition, you would be responsible for any damages caused by the fire and costs to suppress it. One local company was fined $91,284 for damages and costs from a fire along Fletcher Road.

The peak forest fire season here is spring when the snow has left the forests but the green growth hasn't started yet. Spring rains can help keep a lid on dangerous conditions, but one or two days of sunny weather can dry out the dead grasses and fine sticks.

In the past, the second week of May has been the worst time in Crawford County for forest fires. Many times during that week, high winds and dry conditions have combined to help push small fires into large ones.

Anyone spotting a forest fire should call the Crawford County Sheriff Dept. at 348-6341 or the Grayling DNR office at 348-6371.

Area Man Given Life Term For Criminal Sex Assault

David Shipe, of Houghton Lake, was sentenced to life imprisonment Monday afternoon in 46th Circuit Court for first degree criminal sexual assault involving young children.

Circuit Court Judge Alton T. Davis, in issuing the sentence, said "The children of this Circuit and of our State are our most precious resource. They are particularly vulnerable to these types of offenses and are generally helpless when confronted with aggressive and assaultive crimes of this type perpetrated by an adult. To the degree possible, and to the extent appropriate, they shall be afforded the protection of the Court."

He said the sentence is intended to punish Shipe for his conviction and it should send a strong message throughout this Circuit that "sexual abuse - of children in particular - will be dealt with most severely by this Court."

Shipe, a former Grayling resident, said at the sentence hearing that he was innocent of the charges and he never did anything against the law except receive one speeding ticket.

His attorney said he is an outstanding member of the community, has a good job, and functions well in society.

Davis said that as presiding judge over the trial, he is convinced the guilty jury verdict was correct. He went on to say the victims are very young, now ages 6 and 8, and the crimes against them continued over at least a two-year period before being discovered.

"Post-conviction, the defendant has demonstrated no remorse or contrition and, in fact, continues to maintain that he was not involved. It is the Court's observation that the defendant is sufficiently intelligent and articulate to create and maintain a facade of normalcy which enhances his potential for occasioning harm in the community. The Court views the defendant as a very real menace (to the victims and others involved)."

The sentence is for the period of life with 55 days credit for time already served. Local authorities said Shipe will have to serve at least ten years in prison before he has the opportunity to appear before a parole board.

Local Contractors Win Bids

Most of the bids for a new bus garage and Grayling Elementary construction work have been awarded and school officials figure the two projects will cost $75,000 to $100,000 less than original estimates.

Four out of five local contractors who submitted bids were the low bidders and received contracts. The fifth local contractor came in second to another local contractor.

Construction has already started at the Grayling Elementary with concrete poured in courtrooms and footings for an exterior wall for special education classrooms poured.

The elementary project is on schedule for an early August finish.

Design plans for the middle school renovation and addition have been decided and drawings should be finished in mid-June. Bids for the work should be awarded by late July or early August and construction should begin by mid-August. The project is a few months behind a preliminary schedule because design plans and fire marshal approval took longer than expected. The project is still on schedule to be finished by the end of the next school year.

The following bids have been awarded to date for the bus garage and elementary work:

For foundation work and building concrete to Porath Contracting of Houghton Lake for $19,000, for masonry and removals to Carl C. Straus of Mt. Pleasant for $29,720, for carpentry to Artec Interiors of Traverse City for $29,100, for fascia work to Pacfo of Grand Rapids for $1,400, for hardware to Architectural Hardware of Muskegon for $2,560, for glass and glazing to Grayling Glass of Grayling for $4,326, for acoustical ceilings to Artec Interiors for $8,550, for carpet to Bouma Corporation for $9,607, for painting and wall vinyl to Burdo of Traverse City for $4,500, for chalk and tackboards to Dew-El Corporation of Holland for $8,820, for operable walls to Artec Interiors for $9,850, for overhead doors to Doorways of the North of Grayling for $6,400, and for a vehicle lift to Oscar W. Larson Company of Detroit for $12,895.

Also for earthwork to rough demo grade to Carothers Excavating of Gaylord for $4,000, for structural steel to Jacklin Steel Supply of Traverse City for $23,900, for steel joists to Jacklin Steel Supply for $6,800, for metal decking to Miner Roofing of Grayling for $8,500, for roofing to ABI Mechanical of Traverse City for $13,290, for heating and ventilating to ABI Mechanical for $55,348, for electrical to Batdorff of Houghton Lake for $12,550, and for a pre-engineered building with an extra bay to North Central Erectors of Grayling for $65,100.

In other school news, Crawford AuSable Superintendent Kent Reynolds was appointed to a 15-member Senate Citizens Property Tax Commission. The Commission will look at the following six areas and report to the Senate by December 31, 1986:

(1) Examine Michigan's property tax burden relative to other states and to historical trends and examine alternative methods of financing schools. (2) Examine the effect of constitutional and statutory limits on millage rates and assessed values. (3) Analyze the property assessment process particularly for industrial and agricultural property. (4) Analyze the effectiveness and reasonableness of existing property tax exemptions, abatements and credits. (5) Examine the tax appeals process including the concept of a state tax tribunal, and (6) Examine the taxation of personal property. The Commission includes representatives from all parts of the state. Members of the Commission include university professors of economics and law, a board of review member, a real estate broker, the Michigan State Chamber of Commerce, Taxation Committee Chairman, a township supervisor, a dairy farmer, a county controller, an attorney, a township board administrative aide, a past board of education president, and two superintendents of schools including Reynolds.

Reynolds said the appointment was an honor and important to the community to have a representative of an out-of-formula school district on the Commission.

Peace games aren't fun but they beat war games

Oh, where are you coming from, soldier, gaunt soldier,

With weapons beyond any reach of my mind,
With weapons so deadly the world must grow older

And die in its tracks, if it does not turn kind.

— Stephen Vincent Benet

That poem, as well as anything, explains why I plug peace games. There are two being played in the Detroit area this week.

Peace games, of course, are a response to war games. U.S. troops training in Central America or off the coast of Libya — those are war games.

Secretary of Defense Caspar Weinberger was in Tokyo last week, urging Japan to use its technological expertise to help develop the "Star Wars" defense program. That's a war game.

A peace game is a visit by retired Lt. Col. Robert Bowman in Greektown.

Bowman, 50, is president of a one-man think tank called the Institute for Space and Security Studies. A 22-year veteran, Bowman was director of advanced space programs development (now called Star Wars) for the Air Force from 1976 to 1978.

AFTER LEAVING the military, Bowman went to work for General Dynamics Corp., the nation's largest defense contractor. In a recent interview, he recalled:

"I was at General Dynamics, and I was at a conference in Rome. I read a paper in which I was specifically against space weapons. I said they would crowd out peaceful uses of space. My boss sat in the audience with his head in his hands. Afterwards, he wouldn't talk to me. I said, 'Well, you approved my paper.' And he said, 'Yes, but I didn't read it.'

"After that, they wanted me to stay at General Dynamics and just make money for them and not go to other conferences and continue to speak out..."

Bowman quit and now, working out of his Maryland home, he spends much of his time doing what General Dynamics didn't want him to do — speaking out against Star Wars, the proposed space-based missile defense shield, which he calls the "ultimate hair-trigger."

"The promise that perfect defense can overcome offense is an illusion. All it can do is guarantee immediate and total nuclear war," he said.

Bowman will explain why at a peace game being played at 7 p.m. Thursday in the Second Baptist Church in Detroit's Greektown. His visit is sponsored by the Detroit Area Nuclear Weapons Freeze and the church. He'll also speak Thursday at 9:30 a.m. in the Smith Theater at Oakland Community College, and at 1 p.m. in the Student Center Building at Wayne State University.

ANOTHER PEACE GAME, called "Are Nuclear Weapons Immoral?", will be played Saturday from 2 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. in the Metropolitan United Methodist Church, 8000 Woodward. It is sponsored by the Detroit Chapter of Physicians for Social Responsibility and the speakers will be four of Detroit's best-known religious leaders — the Rev. William Quick of the host church, Bishop Thomas Gumbleton of the Catholic Archdiocese of Detroit, Rabbi Ernst Conrad of Temple Kol Ami in West Bloomfield Township, and the Rev. Frederick Sampson of Detroit's Tabernacle Missionary Baptist Church.

All of which, admittedly, is pretty straight stuff to be emitting from this column, where the intent is most often to give you something to smile about. Peace games aren't usually funny, although they're certainly a lot more laughs than war games.

Peace games are played with words. War games are played "with weapons so deadly."

Why do I sometimes interrupt the nonsense to plug peace games? Go back and read Stephen Vincent Benet's poem again. And then come out and play with me for peace.

People are welcome to watch and feed the ducks. It is the club's hope they will be cared for and watched over by everyone.

Trout fisherman should find northern Michigan streams at or near the average levels for their season's opener April 27, according to the Conservation Department servation Department. Throughout most areas snow made a hasty exit during the spring break-up which means that trout waters may be warmer and clearer than usual. Another 56,425 fish of take-home size were released in the northern lower peninsula's cold water lakes this spring. In the upper peninsula, where the majority of trout lakes were planted last fall, some 800 fish recently were added.

The Bible Speaks

From Calvary Baptist Church

Is Acts 8:37 in your Bible? Salvation by grace through faith is one of the great doctrines of the Word of God. Ephesians 2:8,9 "For by grace are ye saved through faith; and that not of yourselves; it is the gift of God: Not of works, lest any man should boast." Directly opposed to this scriptural truth is the heresy taught by the Roman Catholic Church, i.e., baptismal regeneration and attempt to negate the Biblical truth of salvation by grace through faith, then baptism.

Until 1881, essentially all English Bibles were the King James Version. All modern Bibles come from the corrupted Westcott-Hort text of 1881, which is based on corrupted Roman Catholic manuscripts (Vaticanus and Sinaiticus).

The Roman Catholic Church has taught that infant baptism is one of the seven "sacraments" necessary for salvation. (By the way, the Word of God nowhere teaches that any "sacrament" is necessary for salvation. In fact, the word "sacrament" is not even in the Bible.) Their teaching is that water sprinkled on a baby's head somehow gives "saving grace" to that infant. This bring us to Acts 8:37. In the prior verse (Acts 8:36), the Ethiopian eunuch asked Philip: "What doth hinder me to be baptized?" Philip answered: "If thou believest with all thine heart, thou mayest."

Acts 8:37 clearly teaches that salvation by faith comes before baptism. If your Bible is the NIV (New International Version), RSV (Revised Standard Version), or NWT (New World Translation - Jehovah Witness Bible), then you will notice a glaring omission from the text. Acts 8:37 is not there. The Lord will bless your faith.

C. Michael Langdon, M.D. (Hear "The Bible Speaks" at 7:57 a.m. Tuesday on WQON 100 FM).

Bits O'Talk

Roy & Mo Lovely returned home from Hudson, Fla., on April 11th. They stopped en route at Oxford, Mich. for a 2 night stay with their son, Jerold, and family. While in Florida, their son, Chum, and family came down staying a week with them. Also they spent 3 days at Disney World, 3 nights with Tom and Ann LaMotte in Fort Myers, and 2 days in Bonita Springs with relatives before returning home on April 5th. A good time was had by all. The Roy Lovely's spend the winters in Hudson, Fla. Also the Leo Lovely's and Paul Lovely's spend their winters in the same area.

Fay Boeve, Ann Doty and Tom St. Germain will be honored at the Crawford County AuSable Staff Recognition and Retirement Dinner to be held on Sunday, April 27, 1986.

Laurie Scheer Joins Staff

Scheer Motors is very pleased to announce the addition of Laurie Scheer to their auto and truck sales and leasing staff.

Laurie is a graduate of Ferris State College and she has lived almost all her life in northern Michigan.

She will be in the GM showroom but is ready and able to help with Chrysler products as well.

Chorale

We need a name! The Crawford County Arts Council is sponsoring a community chorale. We have been rehearsing for one month and will be prepared for a performance Saturday, May 17, 1986 at the high school.

In preparing programs and tickets, we, the chorale members, realized we have no name. We have decided to ask the community for help. Please, if you think of a name for our group, mail it to: "???" Chorale, P.O. Box 1, Grayling, Mi. 49738.

Perhaps a little information about our group will help; "there are approximately 40 of us (soprano's, alto's, tenor's, and basses), we are adults, and we sing a variety of music.

We plan to announce our name at our first performance May 17, 1986 at 7:30 p.m. at the high school. We will reimburse the winner for 2 tickets that evening, and give the winner 2 tickets for the Handel Community concert in October.

Doodles From The Tall Timber

by Wendell L. Hoover,
Park Interpreter

As you can well imagine early logging camps were often far removed from the rudiments of civilization. One of the things logging camps lacked was trained medical personnel, so the men relied upon their own cures. If a doctor was needed it could be a matter of hours or days by tote sled or wagon with no assurance there would be a doctor available.

The most critical aspect of most logging accidents was bleeding.

The men knew about pressure points and tourniquets, which they used but more often than not the call went out for a bloodstopper.

Whether you believe or not, just consider the following story which is one of many. "A man was carried into camp and according to witnesses he was very pale and blood kept dripping from the stocking that was over his boot. The cook, who was a bloodstopper, was taking cookies out of the oven when the man called for him. He paused from the task, looked at the injured man for a long half minute then declared "the bleeding is stopped." The men then carried their friend to the bunkhouse where they cut his pant leg and boot off to discover the bleeding was indeed stopped.

One bloodstopper was asked once how he did his work. He replied that he forgot everything and concentrated on the injured person. He imagined himself right there holding the blood back and saying, "It's stopping, it's stopping, it's stopped."

Today we take the availability of emergency medical help for granted, but in the old days the people mostly took care of one another. The urgency of the situation led them to a different solution - the efficiency of which they did not doubt.

Herbal Corner

Companion planting is still not too widely known except by those into organic gardening. To briefly explain, companion planting is a method of planting vegetables, fruit, and herbs such a way as to compliment and aid in growth of same said plants. Here are a few ideas of companion planting.

Cornell University's College of Agriculture has shown that collards benefit from interplanting with tomatoes since the flea beetle, the prime pest of collards, was significantly decreased. Collards, widely grown in the southern states as a source of greens, are more nutritious than heading cabbage, and their taste is improved by freezing.

Planting clover between rows of grapes will add nitrogen to the soil. This also works well in orchards. Clover dislikes henbane and also members of the buttercup family, which secrete a substance in their roots that inhibits the growth of nitrogen bacteria and poisons the soil for clover. This poisoning is so effective that the clover will disappear in a field if buttercups are increasing.

Plant Borage to deter tomato worms. Borage also tastes like cucumber. The flowers would be an added attraction in a salad.

Plant Garlic to deter Japanese beetle, aphid, weevils, fruit tree borers, and spider mites.

Plant Basil around your patio to help deter flies and mosquitos as well as around your tomatoes to enhance their growth.

Plant Nasturtiums to deter aphids, squash bugs, striped pumpkin beetles, woolly aphids - and for salads, too.

More next week, darlin'.

Herbally yours,
E. Diana Cerelli, C.H.

Resource Review

By Bruce Patrick
Conservation Officer

When a skunk takes up residence under the crawl space of a home, underneath the floor of a barn or garage or some other portion of a building, the only effective control method is to deny entrance by making the necessary repair to keep the animals out. It is important to exclude them as soon as possible before young are born. Ground level repairs made to exclude skunks should extend at least 12 inches into the ground to prevent re-entry by digging. An L-shaped bottom also is recommended. Be sure all of the animals are out before shutting burrows or other entrances. Moth balls, illumination with light bulbs and saturation with a strong ammonia solution, singly or together, will help move them out.

It is also necessary to clean up anything nearby which may provide food for the animals. Anyone who has garbage, dog food, compost piles or other food sources around is asking for trouble. Skunks are not protected by law and it is generally the responsibility of the person with the problem to take the initiative in solving the problem. Live traps are available through the D.N.R. and the Sheriff Department's Animal Control Officer. Advice on use of the traps and disposition of the animal is also available.

Edith Johnson Day Sunday, April 27

Sunday, April 27 is Edith Johnson Day at St. John Lutheran Church, 710 Spruce St., Grayling, Mi. She celebrated her 99th Birthday on April 18.

We will honor this oldest member of our Congregation with Coffee Hour and Birthday cake, following 11 a.m. service. We invite friends of Mrs. Johnson to come and share this special day with us.

Spring Fun Planned For Kids

The Grayling Promotional Association is sponsoring a kids Spring Hat Parade on Saturday, May 3rd, at 1:15 p.m. A parade will begin in front of the Grayling State Bank and continue down Michigan Avenue to the park. Children are to make the "Spring Bonnets" or "Hats" they wear (boys included) and prizes will be awarded for the most original, funniest, and prettiest in each age group.

At 2:00 p.m. a ribbon hunt will be held at the park. Rules will be explained at that time and many different prizes will be awarded. Finally there will be a magic or clown show at 3:45 p.m. under the covered pavilion.

Crawford County Board of Commissioners

March 27, 1986 — Regular Meeting

SYNOPSIS

The March 27, 1986 Regular Meeting convened at 9:45 a.m. Commissioners present were: Kitchen, Harland, Mattis, Neilson, Joyce & Ruddy, Miller - absent. Clerk Elizabeth Wieland was present.

IN FORMAL ACTION, COMMISSIONERS:
—Accepted the minutes of the March 11, 1986 Regular Meeting as presented.

—Reviewed and accepted 44 pieces of communications.

—Granted permission to the Grayling Promotional Association to use the area south of the Courthouse on July 26th to exhibit antique cars, providing they return the area to its original state.

—Accepted the recommendation of Prosecuting Attorney John Huss to take no further action on prohibiting nude dancing, or the furnishing of alcoholic beverages to minors in social settings, as the State Regulations are adequate and easier to enforce.

—Supported Branch County Resolution urging passage of HB 4957 (Providing 50% state funding of costs directly resulting from increase in bed spaces at County Jails).

—Supported Iron County's Resolution encouraging regulatory energy agencies to direct the moderation and actual decrease in natural gas prices similar to other related energy prices.

—Consented to support Oceana, Arenac and Iron Counties in their pursuit to reject proposed Court Rule 6.104 (Proposed Rules of Criminal Procedure).

—Executed the Operating and Financial Plan in the amount not to exceed $1,600.00 for patrol of Kneff Lake Recreation area by the Forest Service.

—Authorized Comm. Joyce to attend a hearing on behalf of the Board, concerning SB607 (Crawford Land Act), and increase in payment in lieu of tax on military land.

—Opted to pursue renewal of the Special Use Permit for the Fish Hatchery and request permission to construct a canopy.

—Approved the registration fee for two additional employees in the Clerk's office for the word processing class at the high school.

—Waived the fee for a plat book and copies of plats of Grayling Twp. for use by the Sheriff's dept. in their work on the new address numbering system.

—Executed the Letter of Understanding with the Teamsters Bargaining Unit for 1985 as presented.

—Approved a change order in the amount of $326.00 on the jail renovation project.

—Ratified the 86-87 Teamsters Bargaining Unit contract until the revised document is received.

—Appointed the following members to the 1986 Special Elections Scheduling Committee: Monica Ashton - Townships, Jerry Morford - City, and Mary Allen - Schools.

—Appointed Bernard J. Fowler to the 1986 Allocation Board.

—Authorized the purchase of extra jackets for volunteers on the Ambulance Corp and new ID cards.

—Petitioned the DNR for the acquisition of property located in N½ of NW¼ of Sec. 31, T27N, R3W for use as a fairgrounds as this would be cheaper to develop.

IN OTHER BUSINESS, COMMISSIONERS:

—Heard a report from American Family Life Assurance Co. on the benefits available to elected officials, as well as employees and can be payroll deducted.

—Heard from John Small on the poor ventilation in the jury room and consensus of the Board was to refer the issue to Building and Personnel Committee for installation of a fan.

—Reviewed construction reports from DEM on the jail renovations with the Sheriff.

—Referred a resolution presented by Peter Stephan and Clarence LaMotte on behalf of the Committee Opposed to Catch and Release of trout on the mainstream of the AuSable to the Prosecutor's office for recommendation.

—Heard updates from various other committees.

Full text of official minutes is on file with the Clerk's office.

Meeting adjourned at 3:35 p.m.

April 18, 1986

Senator Connie Binsfeld
Rt. 2
Maple City, MI. 49664

Dear Senator:

The public is concerned about the changes to take place at Camp Shawono, Grayling, Michigan on June 2, 1986, at which time the boys presently housed there will be moved out to make room for serious offenders. We were assured that full lock-up buildings would be completed and fencing installed before this move would be made.

The citizens were not informed of the changes planned (i.e.: changing Shawono from a minimum to a medium/maximum security center) for the camp until after the plans had been presented to the legislature. Many people knew no details until the April 2nd meeting requested by Ed Mogel, Bear Lake Township Supervisor. At the time of this meeting the bill implementing and funding this program had already passed both legislative houses.

First we were kept in the dark, then allowed no input, and now have obviously been lied to. We have valid reasons to be angry and to be fearful for our families and property. The Shawono facility is not secured to hold these serious offenders.

The Kalkaska County Sheriff Dept. is under-staffed now and certainly is ill equipped to deal with the possible ramifications of this move. Though Crawford County has better police protection, this is little consolation to those living near the camp.

If we are to be faced with this new program, we need your help in delaying its implementation until such time as the center is secured.

Respectively yours,
Darwin Ancel

Chrysler on the Move

by Richard Milliman

IS RICHARD CHRYSLER, businessman and self-made millionaire, pulling ahead of the crowded field in the race for the Republican nomination for governor?

Well, as is the case in much of politics, the answer is sort of "yes and no," coupled with a few "it all depends."

There's little question that Mr. Chrysler started out the five-person (so far, anyway) race for the GOP bunting in third place. That's mainly because he was the third entrant — following favorite William Lucas, Wayne County administrator and recent Republican convert, and Daniel Murphy, Oakland County administrator and long-time party stalwart.

If there had been more entries at the time Chrysler climbed out on his personal limb, he probably would have trailed them, too.

BUT CHRYSLER opened with a well-financed and well-developed personal advertising campaign, plastering his name and picture everywhere he could imagine and spending lots of dollars in the effort.

Then he took a poll. The Chrysler poll showed he has gained on Murphy and Lucas — so far, in fact, that he was in the lead...that is, if you trust the selected results of a poll which shows the poll-taker is doing great.

Chrysler claimed that 41 percent of those polled said they would vote for him in a Republican primary. Lucas got only 27 percent in the Chrysler poll and Murphy dipped to seven percent.

TWO CANDIDATES who entered the running even after Chrysler did were even lower — Rep. Colleen Engler at four percent and John Lauve at two percent.

Naturally Mr. Chrysler trumpeted the results of his own poll, while Mr. Lucas downplayed the figures, Mr. Murphy pooh-poohed them, Mrs. Engler said she hadn't even started her campaign yet, and Mr. Lauve largely disregarded them.

All of this is in keeping with the normal and usual conduct of politics.

The truth of the matter probably lies

Environmental Groups Call For Federal Action on Superfund

Warren M. Hoyt, Exec. Dir., MPA

Congressional inaction on new financing for the federal Superfund program to clean up toxic waste sites threatens Michigan's ability to clean up hazardous waste sites, representatives of a variety of environmental organizations declared recently.

Officials from PIRGIM, the Michigan Environmental Council, the Sierra Club and the Audubon Society called on the three Michigan congressional members serving on the Superfund conference committee to push for quick action of the Superfund bill and back changes to improve government ability to order toxic cleanups.

They all called for approval of $10 billion in financing, which the federal House approved instead of the $7.5 billion the Senate approved or the $5.3 billion President Reagan proposed.

They asked the Superfund be used to clean up 150 sites a year, compared to the two sites a year the Superfund has cleaned up since 1980, for provisions giving citizens the right to know about storage of toxic chemicals in local areas, and to sue polluters for cleanup of imminent hazards.

Michigan is second only to New Jersey in the number of toxic waste sites on the federal Superfund priority list, Don Rounds of PIRGIM said. "The cleanup of these poisons is too critical a public health issue to be paralyzed by special interest politics in Washington," he said.

Congress has failed since September to reauthorize general financing for the Superfund, and has failed to agree on its new statutory provisions. Congress has approved $150 million for a 60-day stopgap funding extension, but Michigan has received only $2 million, and planning and programs on some 21 toxic waste sites in the state have been delayed, Carol Dansey of the MEC said. The state has also had to spend its own money at three sites where federal funding has been withdrawn and may have to step in to spend money at another seven sites where the same action is possible, she said.

Democrat John Dingell of Dearborn, Guy Vander Jagt of Luther and Robert Davis of Gaylord are members of the House/Senate conference committee working on the new Superfund legislation.

WILLIAMS ASKS $29 MILLION FOR STATE FINANCING OF COURTS

Michigan's judicial system has lagged behind the Executive Office and the Legislature in modernizing its operations and needs $29 million more in 1986-87 to perform its constitutional functions, Chief Justice G. Mennen Williams told a joint meeting of the House and Senate in his State of the Judiciary address.

The Supreme Court has undertaken a four-point program to help update and improve its overall operations, but accomplishing the constitutionally-required one court of justice will need state appropriations, Williams said.

He called on the Legislature to appropriate $29 million as a "modest beginning" to assume a state share of local court services.

The Legislature, the Executive Office and the public have recognized the need for improvements in court operations, Williams said, but "expressed intentions and first steps have not been completely implemented."

The recession of the early 1980's delayed the planned takeover by the state of local court operations, begun in 1980 with Wayne County courts, but the need for state assumption remains, he said.

"Funding units previously disinterested in state assistance for trial courts are now faced with adverse financial circumstances and many are most interested in our 1986 program of state funding," Williams said.

Governor Blanchard has not recommended expanding state assumption, but is urging state payment of a greater share of local judges' salaries.

The $29 million Williams requested represents a change from previous funding formulas. In the past the Supreme Court has asked for a percentage of total court funding, which the Legislature has rebuffed.

This year, Williams said the Court is asking that legislators finance the cost of essential services trial courts are required constitutionally to provide, such as assigned counsel, juror fees, witness fees, transcripts and court reporting.

The other steps to improve court operations, he said, involve reducing delays on trials and decisions through new time standards, improving the public understanding of the courts and determining how courts can improve services to families and children.

Citizens Asked To Report Hawk Sightings in Crawford County

Residents and springtime visitors to northern Michigan can aid a new study aimed at obtaining vital nesting information on the red-shouldered hawk, a species officially listed as Threatened by the Michigan Department of Natural Resources.

The research, supported by the Nongame Wildlife Fund, is being conducted by Bert C. Ebbers, a Research Associate of the Kalamazoo Nature Center and a Cheboygan County resident.

Objectives of the study include an area-wide census, continual monitoring of active nests to document nesting success, and banding of young birds in the nest.

Red-shouldered hawks are usually secretive and are slightly larger than the common crow. Adults in breeding plumage are identified by reddish barred underparts, narrow white bands on a long black tail, and broad wings with a translucent patch underneath at the base of the outermost flight feathers.

The call is a piercing and descending kee-er. Red-shouldered hawk nests are constructed of sticks placed in the fork of a large tree, and are usually located in hardwood forests near water.

The red-shouldered hawk has experienced a drastic statewide population decline over the last 80 years, mostly as a result of the development and destruction of prime nesting habitat such as large-growth floodplain forests. The northern Lower Peninsula is believed to contain the last significant breeding populations of the species in the state.

Citizens can do their part during the next three months by reporting sightings of adult birds or the location of nest sites to Ebbers at: P.O. Box 211, Tower, MI 49792; or (517) 733-6408.

Specific counties for which detailed information is requested include Benzie, Leelanau, Grand Traverse, Kalkaska, Crawford, Oscoda, Alcona, Antrim, Charlevoix, Otsego, Montmorency, Alpena, Emmet, Cheboygan and Presque Isle.

Information that pinpoints active nest sites early in the season (April or May) is of prime importance. Citizens should be aware that excessive human intrusion around a site could cause the birds to abandon the nest.

County Young People Can Attend 4-H Exploration Days

Crawford County young people who want to be part of an action-packed three-day learning experience can attend 4-H Exploration Days, June 18-20 at Michigan State University.

The theme for this year's event is "4-H — An Adventure in Liberty," and it will offer youth people the opportunity to choose from approximately 200 learning options.

"The purpose of 4-H Exploration Days is to give young people a chance to increase their skills and knowledge in a particular subject area," says Ann Stephenson, Crawford County Extension Junior showmanship was won by Carrie Hubbard, 2nd by Israel Grounds, and 3rd by Ira Grounds. Senior showmanship was won by Scott Hubbard, 2nd Dana Pratt, and 3rd by Douglas Pratt. David Pratt, Shawn Hubbard, Jamey Owens and Daniel Pratt also competed.

Keith Forbush plans to return later in May or June to continue registering rabbits. Also a 4-H clinic on butchering will be given. If you are interested sign up early by calling Donna Pratt at 348-8460.

The local Red Cross provides this valuable service.

Blood pressure is the force of blood pushing against the walls of the blood vessels. High blood pressure results when blood vessels become narrow, forcing the heart to pump harder to push blood through the body. High blood pressure has been cited as a major cause of stroke, heart attack, and kidney failure.

British Musical-Comedy Being Readied By High School Players

"Half a Sixpence," the musical comedy hit that delighted audiences from London to New York and halfway around the world, is currently being readied for production by the Grayling High School Players. The opening performance has been scheduled for Thursday evening, May 1. That performance will be followed by additional performances on May 2 and 3. Curtain time for all three performances has been set at 8:00 p.m.

Jeff Martinez will be starred as Kipps, the fresh, innocent young man suddenly elevated by an unexpected inheritance from his lowly clerkship. His sudden wealth raises the young Cockney's social acceptability, and before he quite realizes what is happening he becomes engaged to the cool snobbish daughter of the town's leading family, forgetting his vows to the pretty parlormaid he had courted as a poor boy.

Chris McLaughlin will be seen as the servant girl to whom Kipps has given half a sixpence as a token of his love. Sue Stanley will portray the well-bred socialite who attempts to mold Kipps into a gentleman, without his having much aptitude for it. Kathy Allen her haughty mother, Kevin Reynolds her brother who dissipates Kipp's fortune by speculation, and Allen Morford, Dennis Mansfield and Cris Helton as Kipp's chums who will join in the show's jollier songs and abandoned dances.

Chamber Chatter

By Terry Wright

With the summer festival season around the corner we are getting bombarded with requests for Miss Grayling and the Chamber float to appear in a multitude of parades across Michigan. We are happy to represent Grayling and, after narrowing the parades to ten, are in the process of responding. The parade season begins this Saturday at the National Trout Festival in Kalkaska and ends late in September at the Roscommon Firemen's Memorial Festival. In between we will be represented from Alma to Mackinaw and Traverse City to Tawas.

Our Queens are always beautiful and our float has won numerous awards. They are a very important part of our overall advertising program, but without some help we may not be able to meet all of our parade dates.

If there is anyone out there in readerland who might be able to pull our float for us (vehicles are supplied) we would certainly appreciate your help. All it will cost you is time. Please call the Chamber Office today 348-2921 or 348-7315.

Crawford Starts Senior Companion Program for Homebound Elderly

The Senior Companion Program is a national demonstration project funded by the Federal Action Agency and administered by Northeast Michigan Community Service Agency, Inc. in Alpena. This volunteer program brings together older adults able and willing to help those who are most in need, the frail, isolated elderly living in their own home. The program operates in five northeast Michigan counties which are Alpena, Cheboygan, Crawford, Otsego and Presque Isle.

Senior Companion Volunteers spend 20 hours each week visiting the homes of one to three needy senior clients daily, to provide friendship and practical everyday help. Such help and companionship includes light housekeeping, meal preparation, reading, letter writing and playing games.

For their services, the Companions receive the benefits of rewarding friendships, a $2.20 per hour tax-free stipend, yearly physical exams, meaningful experiences and training.

In Grayling, the first six Senior Companion Volunteers have completed a 40-hour orientation training and are ready to begin providing service to the frail, homebound elderly of Crawford County.

To be eligible to become a Senior Companion a person must be sixty years of age or older; be living on a low income; be in reasonably good

Helping Kids Learn Responsibility

By Call Edwards
Extension Home Economist

It's important for young people to take responsibility because taking responsibility is related to self-esteem. Taking responsibility is good and healthy.

Taking responsibility is considered by parents and others who work with early adolescents (10- to 14-year-olds) as one of the most important issues in the early adolescent's development. Responsibility taking, however, doesn't start with 10- to 14-year-olds. Ideally, it develops all along their life span. Young people need to begin taking on responsibilities within and outside of the family to become independent.

A study conducted by the Michigan State University Department of Family and Child Ecology and the Michigan 4-H Youth Program revealed that 10- to 14-year-olds are more likely to take on personal responsibilities, like grooming and doing homework, than any other kind. Personal responsibilities were followed by family and social responsibilities.

The 10- to 14-year-olds' world is expanding, Nelson points out. As they start finding themselves in social situations without adults, young people need to know how to take care of themselves, how to make decisions and how to be responsible for themselves.

Nelson encourages parents to give young people responsibility.

An Oakland County, California, study revealed that young people who had household responsibilities had higher self-esteem. They felt more as if they were part of the family, Nelson says, and that helped them feel better about themselves.

Parents have to expect that kids will help out. Parents should have reasonable request, however. There needs to be a balance between expectations and letting kids be kids.

It's important that parents remember that learning to be responsible is an on-going process. And it takes as much work on the part of the parents as it does on the part of the child.

How family responsibilities are chosen for and by the early adolescent and how much supervision the early adolescent is given are important in determining how the youth develops into a responsible, self-managing person.

A parent needs to make sure the responsibility or task has been completed, meeting some agreed-upon standard of quality. If the parent doesn't follow through, the child doesn't get the message that it's important to finish the job.

"Mercy Matters"

By Sister Mary Ellen Howard, RSM
President and Chief Executive Officer
Mercy Hospital, Grayling

You may have seen Mercy's new slogan "Friends Caring For Friends" in our recent advertisements, helping to promote our values of community, compassion and commitment. "Friends Caring For Friends" is more than an advertising tag line ... it's an attitude reflecting the way our staff cares for patients and their families at Mercy Hospital.

Stop in our hospital any time and you'll find friendly faces greeting you, willing to assist you and making sure you're comfortable while at the hospital. As the county's largest employer, the majority of our staff is uniquely involved in the Grayling community ... we live and work here. Our children are enrolled in schools here. Many employees are active in community organizations. And while at work, we do take care of our friends and relatives while they're in the hospital. So the slogan "Friends Caring For Friends" has meaning beyond the words ... it is a true example of the values we adhere to in our daily lives.

Recently all Mercy employees were asked to attend an informative Guest Relations Program. This program was a helpful reminder of the many positive ways in which we treat our guests ... patients, families, visitors, clergypersons, physicians, vendors, volunteers and the many others who visit Mercy. Taking the time to show we care in little ways can mean a lot, and this refresher course in guest relations was of benefit to all of us.

By fine-tuning our interpersonal skills, Mercy employees were able to recognize their own areas of expertise as demonstrated in their daily work. We care for our patients person-to-person, friend-to-friend. Our discharged patients confirm this by responding to our satisfaction surveys with most favorable comments, such as "kind, considerate, caring, personable, dedicated, responsive, understanding, flexible, special and respectful."

I am proud to be a part of an organization that is respected in the community for the quality care our patients receive. It's also great to be a part of a staff of people who do indeed care for their friends, including co-workers and patients. Every staffer who attended the four-hour guest relations seminars better understands the role they play in the success of the hospital ... and I hope that success is evident to you all.

The here and now

Nancy clasped her hand firmly in granddad's as they roamed the large forest on the back of his farm. He helped her through the underbrush, careful that no whipping limb lash her face as they fought the small trees struggling for a bigger place among the tall ones.

They came to a clearing in the dense woods and stopped. "Nancy," he said to the six-year-old "apple of his eye" as he stood gazing at the trees. "What is here now that was not here a hundred years ago?"

Nancy looked around, combing the little clearing filled with wildflowers and their backdrop of huge trees. But no answer came.

"Think, Nancy, think," he urged.

Then her eyes lit up. "Me!"

Whether that was the answer granddad had in mind, I don't know. But I do know that Nancy's answer is on target. She and all her friends are the new generation. They were not here a hundred years ago; not many of us were.

Nancy, you and the rest of us have a legacy, a heritage, and responsibility to do something good and great with all we have inherited.

We were not here a hundred years ago. But we are now!

NOTICE OF AVAILABILITY OF HILL BURTON UNCOMPENSATED SERVICES

Mercy Hospital, Grayling, Michigan will provide from July 1, 1986 to June 30, 1987, a total of $37,552 of Hill Burton Uncompensated Services to any eligible persons unable to pay who request those services. This amount is less than our annual compliance level due to the application of excess credit from previous years to fiscal year 1987. All inpatient and outpatient services of the facility will be available as uncompensated services. Eligibility for uncompensated services will be limited to persons whose family income is not more than the current poverty guidelines established by the Department of Health and Human Services. This notice is published in accordance with 42 CFR 124.505 Notice of Availability of Uncompensated Services.

Lions White Cane Week Starts April 26

For the 50th time, more than 23,000 Lions Club members in Michigan are getting ready for the annual Lions White Cane Week drive scheduled for April 26 to May 5.

During the ten-day period, the Lions will be selling miniature White Cane pins on street corners, shopping malls, banks, businesses and other heavily trafficked areas. Money collected from the sale of the White Cane pins is used to support the many worthwhile projects and institutions of the Lions Club. Thousands of Michiganders have already benefited from Leader Dogs for the Blind, Rochester, now "graduating" more than 350 dog-student teams annually; the Leader Dog puppy program; Welcome Home for the Blind, Grand Rapids, built to fill the needs of the sightless elderly; the Michigan Lions Eye Banks, located on the campuses of the University of Michigan and Wayne State University, which assist in the restoration of sight to the unsighted through transplants and research; Penickton Center, Taylor for a school for blind children who have an additional handicap. Also, the Baycliff Camp; Lake Orion Blind Camp; Beaumont Silent Children's Fund; Braille transcribing, free sight screening from sightmobiles, glaucoma detection clinics and numerous local community projects and institutions.

Vikings Win Every Inning Except The Last One

The Vikings won 9 out of 10 innings Thursday but failed to pick up a win against Central Lake.

They dropped the opening game 8-5 after leading 4-3 going into the seventh. And they were ahead 8-7 in the top of the third in the second game that was called because of darkness.

The season started out fine for the young Grayling team. With Jeff Palmer pitching the first three innings of hitless ball, Grayling notched a 1-0 lead. Flaske Robins walked in the first inning and took second on John Meagher's sacrifice ground ball. Robins then took third on a passed ball and scored on a wild pitch.

In the fourth inning, Palmer started tiring a little in his first appearance of the year and gave up two hits. He shut them out from scoring, however, and Grayling added a run in the bottom of the inning. John Kinnee singled and took second on a throwing error. Jeff Wolcott sacrificed him to third and David Somerville drove him home with a sacrifice fly.

Central Lake used four straight hits and three outfield errors to go ahead 3-2 in the fifth. Grayling came right back on a single by Meagher and a home run by Palmer to regain the lead 4-3.

In the 6th, Palmer loaded the bases with two walks and a hit and Meagher came in as a relief pitcher and got three straight outs with a strike out, ground ball, and pop-up.

In the seventh, the Vikings gave up three hits and five errors as Central Lake went ahead 8-4. Meagher scored in the bottom of the inning with a double, taking third on a wild pitch, and scoring on George Duncan's sacrifice fly.

Central Lake used four straight hits and three outfield errors to go ahead 3-2 in

Did you know there was once a man who led the major leagues in home runs one season - yet never hit one ball out of the park or over the fence all year... His name was Tommy Leach and he played for the Pittsburgh Pirates in 1902... He led the National League in home runs that year - but everyone in his home runs was an inside-the-park homer... He never hit one over the fence - yet he wound up being the home run champion.

Cy Young won more games than any other pitcher in big league baseball history - 511 - but who holds the record for losing the most games of all-time in the majors?... Answer is that same Cy Young... He lost 315 games, and no one else is close to that record.

BITS . . . . . by Fay

The Crawford County Winter Residents of Gulf Shores, Alabama had their first annual "Get-Together" on March 7, 1986. A wonderful evening was enjoyed by fifty Snow Birds at the Top-of-the-Port for dinner following a cocktail party hosted by Mayor Sandy and Jeanne Thompson. The evening of fun was arranged by a committee of Leo and Helma Post, Al and Marcella Mitchell, Bill and Ruth Rutter. Mayor Sandy read a Proclamation and was presented with a number of gag gifts. Those attending this year were Clyde and Helen McQueen. Don and Marge Smith, Jan and Margaret Miller, Nick and Doris Pope, Bill and Ruth Rutter, Jim and Ruth Dale, Leo and Lucille Bagrosky, Ken and Peg Carlisle, Tom and Thelma Bateman, Bill and Nancy Lippert, Frank and Winnie Shaw, Buzz and Betty Stevenson, Al and Marcella Mitchell, Leo and Helma Post, Russ and Arlene Madison, Art and Helen Collins, Chuck and Sheri Varner, Jim and Marie Wiltse, George and Evelyn Kent, Lloyd and Viola Begford, Mayor Sandy and Jeanne Thompson, Norm and Carol Thompson, Maynard and Lois Brown, Dick and Jean Raab, Lee and Shirley Schoenhoff. Next year's committee of "Volunteers" are Don and Marge Smith, Dick and Jean Raab, Ken and Peg Carlisle.

Cancer Society Loan Closet

Following the recommendation of the American Cancer Society area representative, the Crawford County unit has adopted the following policy regarding their loan closet for cancer patients.

1. Persons needing beds, wheelchairs, walkers, crutches, etc. must first contact Physical Aids, 106 Michigan Avenue, Grayling.

2. Physical Aids will explain insurance coverage and forms to be completed.

3. Physical Aids equipment will be used for those patients with coverage.

4. If patient insurance does not cover the needed equipment, the loan closet of the American Cancer Society will be used.

5. Any delivery or set-up fee will be paid for by the local unit to Physical Aids.

Walkers, Runners Challenged

Be a Star! WalkAmerica for the March of Dimes! Help prevent birth defects by signing up now for the March of Dimes WalkAmerica on Sunday, May 4 at Hanson Hills Recreation Area.

Everyone is eligible. Only a pair of walking shoes and a spirit of fun are needed to join in the May 4 hike to promote good health at birth for all.

Employees at Mercy Hospital and other Grayling businesses will be showing their team spirit when they get out their most comfortable shoes to join together in the March of Dimes Team Walk against birth defects.

"We promise everyone a day of great fun and healthy exercise," says Bruce McGuire, local chairman of this year's WalkAmerica at Hanson Hills. "We even have some challenges from local businesses and from individuals to make the day even more fun and challenging."

Grayling resident "Fat" LaMotte, a 51-year-old runner, challenges all area runners in the 7.5 mile run. "Fat" will donate $5 to the March of Dimes for all those who beat him on the 7.5 mile course.

walked. And walkers are encouraged to come out and walk whatever distance is comfortable for them. Small children must be supervised, and all those walkers under age 18 must have a parent's signature on their sponsor sheet.

Locally the March of Dimes provides educational materials and programs for those groups interested in the fight to prevent birth defects. In 1984, the Saginaw Bay Chapter of the March of Dimes gave a grant of $1,500 to Mercy Hospital towards the purchase of a fetal monitor to be used in the newly expanded obstetric department. In addition, the March of Dimes has also been supplying the hospital with numerous public health education brochures to be used in the prenatal classes and also available to the general public.

For more information about the May 4 WalkAmerica at Hanson Hills, contact chairman Bruce McGuire at 348-5884 or 348-5589, or Mary Jo Conway at Mercy Hospital, 348-5461, ext. 368.
